

geomorphology

Description

Geomorphology: The study of Earth's landforms created by mostly physical processes, including physical or chemical changes and those changes influenced by biological processes, including land use. (Geography Realm)

Category

1. Uncategorized

Date Created

December 6, 2021

Author

playbook-guest

default watermark